

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

April 15, 2010

Dear Life Group Friends,

One major issue we want to remind you about as we prepare for next week's Life Group meetings is the Boaz Blitz coming Saturday, April 24th. Please read the announcement we've attached to this email and remind your members of the opportunity. It will be less than a week away when your group meets next.

Because of this great opportunity and our commitment to growing as disciples of Jesus, I've chosen a coaching tip on how to motivate your people to do outreach as a small group. That's how to make our Boaz Blitz a great success. Sign up to participate as a small group. Do you how quickly that would multiply the number of people who choose to get involved? It's always more fun to do things as a group than to have to work on your own.

To help you prepare for next week's discussion questions, we've included John MacArthur's message on Luke 10:1-11 to give you insights into the passage under study. I know you'll enjoy his teaching.

Thanks for your great leadership! The part you play is pivotal. God bless you as you faithfully serve Him another week!
